* Her Majesty's Consul states in his Report that "the circumstances which facilitate low valuations for Imports operate also with respect to Exports, but perhaps to not quite the same extent. Yet in respect to Exports there is abundant evidence to prove that valuable goods either never pass the Customs, or pass it under guise of lower denominations. For instance, whilst the Customs List contains 554 piculs of silk, the return kept by mercantile agencies shows an Export of 967 piculs,"—and the Consul gives 5,000,000 lbs. (or 38,461 piculs) of tea as the actual Export for 1862.
